Figure 1. The effect of the concentration of the Agrobacterium suspension on the transformation efficiency of Agrobacterium strains. The Agrobacterium strains were grown in the YEA medium for 24 h at 28°C. The cell concentration of the strains was adjusted to 10<sup>8</sup> cells/ml. The cell suspension was mixed with the plant tissue and incubated for 24 h at 28°C. The plant tissue was then cultured on the selective medium. The transformation efficiency was determined as the number of transformants per 100 mg of plant tissue. The data are the mean ± SD of three independent experiments.

The petitioner's answers also indicate that the petitioner filed a petition for writ of habeas corpus in the Supreme Court of South Carolina on October 28, 2009. The Supreme Court of South Carolina denied the petition on November 20, 2009.

The petitioner, in the petition in the case at bar, raises two grounds relating to the admission of "other crimes evidence" by the trial judge and a third ground relating to testimony given by the petitioner's co-defendant.

Discussion

Under established local procedure in this judicial district, a careful review has been made of the pro se petition and the Form AO 240 (motion to proceed in forma pauperis) pursuant to the procedural provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 1915 and the Anti-Terrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996. The review<sup>1</sup> has been conducted in light of the following precedents: Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25 (1992); Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319 (1989); Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519 (1972); Nasim v. Warden, Maryland House of Correction, 64 F.3d 951 (4th Cir. 1995) (en banc); Todd v. Baskerville, 712 F.2d 70 (4th Cir. 1983); Boyce v. Alizaduh, 595 F.2d 948 (4th Cir. 1979) (recognizing the district court's authority to conduct an initial screening of any pro se filing);<sup>2</sup> Loe v. Armistead, 582 F.2d 1291 (4th Cir. 1978); and Gordon v. Leeke, 574 F.2d 1147, 1151 (4th Cir. 1978). The petitioner is a pro se litigant, and thus his pleadings are accorded liberal construction. See Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89 (2007) (per curiam); Hughes v. Rowe, 449 U.S. 5, 9-10 & n. 7 (1980) (per curiam); and Cruz v. Beto, 405 U.S. 319 (1972). When a federal court is evaluating a pro se complaint or petition, the plaintiff's or petitioner's allegations are assumed to be true. Fine v. City of New York, 529 F.2d 70, 74 (2nd Cir. 1975). Even under this less stringent standard, the petition is subject to summary dismissal. The requirement of liberal construction does not mean that the court can ignore a clear failure in the pleading to allege facts which set forth a claim currently cognizable in a federal district court. Weller v. Department of Social Services, 901 F.2d 387 (4th Cir. 1990).

With respect to his conviction for murder, the petitioner's sole federal remedy is a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2241 or 28 U.S.C. § 2254, which can be sought only after he has exhausted his state court remedies. See 28 U.S.C. § 2254(b); Picard v. Connor, 404 U.S. 270 (1971); and Braden v. 30th Judicial Circuit Court, 410 U.S. 484, 490-491 (1973) (exhaustion required under 28 U.S.C. § 2241). Although the petitioner has exhausted his state remedies, he has, in the case at bar, submitted a successive petition.

<sup>2</sup>Boyce has been held by some authorities to have been abrogated in part, on other grounds, by Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319 (1989) (insofar as Neitzke establishes that a complaint that fails to state a claim, under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6), does not by definition merit sua sponte dismissal under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B)(i) [formerly 28 U.S.C. § 1915(d)], as "frivolous").

In John L. Penza v. Warden of Lee Correctional Institution, Civil Action No. 2:07-0518-JFA-RSC, the petitioner on February 22, 2007, brought a habeas corpus action to challenge his conviction for murder. On March 8, 2007, the undersigned directed the respondent to file an answer. After receiving two extensions of time, the respondent on July 5, 2007, filed a return, memorandum, and motion for summary judgment.

The undersigned on July 9, 2007, issued a Roseboro order to apprise the petitioner of dispositive motion procedure. Roseboro v. Garrison, 528 F.2d 309, 310 (4th Cir. 1975). The petitioner responded to the Roseboro order on August 20, 2007. In a Report and Recommendation filed in Civil Action 2:07-0518-JFA-RSC on January 28, 2008, the undersigned recommended that the respondents' motion for summary judgment be granted.

The parties in Civil Action No. 2:07-0518-JFA-RSC were apprised of their right to file timely written objections to the Report and Recommendation and of the serious consequences of a failure to do so. No objections were filed. On February 20, 2008, the Honorable Joseph F. Anderson, United States District Judge, adopted the Report and Recommendation.

On February 25, 2008, the petitioner's objections were received by the Clerk's Office. Judge Anderson on May 14, 2008, reopened the case. On June 10, 2008, Judge Anderson issued an Amended Order, wherein he granted summary judgment to the respondent. No appeal was filed in Civil Action No. 2:07-0518-JFA-RSC.

The standard for determining whether a petition is successive appears in Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 485-89 (2000) (to qualify as "successive" petition, prior petition must have been adjudicated on the merits). See also Tyler v. Cain, 533 U.S. 656 (2001) (Section 2244(b) applies when first habeas corpus petition adjudicated on the merits was filed prior to enactment of AEDPA and second petition was filed after enactment of AEDPA). Since Civil Action No. 2:07-0518-JFA-RSC was decided by summary judgment, the petition in the above-captioned case (Civil Action No. 2:10-0292-JFA-RSC) is successive.

This court may take judicial notice of Civil Action No. 2:07-0518-JFA-RSC. Aloe Creme Laboratories, Inc. v. Francine Co., 425 F.2d 1295, 1296 (5th Cir. 1970). See also Colonial Penn Ins. Co. v. Coil, 887 F.2d 1236, 1239 (4th Cir. 1989) ("We note that 'the most frequent use of judicial notice is in noticing the content of court records.'"); and Mann v. Peoples First National Bank & Trust Co., 209 F.2d 570, 572 (4th Cir. 1954) (approving district court's taking judicial notice of prior suit with same parties: "We think that the judge below was correct in holding that he could take judicial notice of the proceedings had before him in the prior suit to which Mann and the Distilling Company as well as the bank were parties.").

The § 2254 petition in the above-captioned case is subject to dismissal because it is a successive petition. Miller v. Bordenkircher, 764 F.2d 245, 248-50 & nn. 3-5 (4th Cir. 1985). See also McClesky v. Zant, 499 U.S. 467 (1991); Bennett v. Angelone, 92 F.3d 1336 (4th Cir. 1996); and Armstead v. Parke, 930 F. Supp. 1285 (N.D. Ind. 1996), affirmed, No. 96-2964, 116 F.3d 1482 [Table], 1997 U.S.App. LEXIS 14835, 1997 WL 345896 (7th Cir., June 13, 1997); and 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b). See also Aloe Creme Laboratories, Inc. v. Francine Co., where the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit commented:

The District Court clearly had the right to take notice of its own files and records and it had no duty to grind the same corn a second time. Once was sufficient.

Aloe Creme Laboratories, Inc. v. Francine Co., 425 F.2d at 1296. See also United States v. Parker, 956 F.2d 169, 171 (8th Cir. 1992).

In any event, there is no indication in the present petition that the petitioner has sought leave from the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit to file the petition in the above-captioned case. See Rule 9 of the Section 2254 Rules. Leave from the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit is now required under the Anti-Terrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 for filers of successive § 2254 petitions. Before the petitioner attempts to file another petition in the United States District Court for the District of South Carolina, he must seek and obtain leave (i.e., written permission) from the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. The petitioner can obtain the necessary form for doing so from the Clerk's Office of the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit in Richmond, Virginia.<sup>3</sup>

(a) No circuit or district judge shall be required to entertain an application for a writ of habeas corpus to inquire into the detention of a person pursuant to a judgment of a court of the United States if it appears that the legality of such detention has been determined by a judge or court of the United States on a prior application for a writ of habeas corpus, except as provided in section 2255.

(b)(1) A claim presented in a second or successive habeas corpus application under section 2254 that was presented in a prior application shall be dismissed.

(2) A claim presented in a second or successive habeas corpus application under section 2254 that was not presented in a prior application shall be dismissed unless--

(A) the applicant shows that the claim relies on a new rule of constitutional law, made retroactive to cases on collateral review by the Supreme Court, that was previously unavailable; or

(B) (i) the factual predicate for the claim could not have been discovered previously through the exercise of due diligence; and

(ii) the facts underlying the claim, if proven and viewed in light of the evidence as a whole, would be sufficient to establish by clear and convincing evidence that, but for constitutional error, no reasonable factfinder would have found the applicant guilty of the underlying offense.

(3) (A) Before a second or successive application permitted by this section is filed in the district court, the applicant shall move in the appropriate court of appeals for an order authorizing the district court to consider the application.

(B) A motion in the court of appeals for an order authorizing the district court to consider a second or successive application shall be determined by a three-judge panel of the court of appeals.

(C) The court of appeals may authorize the filing of a second or successive application only if it determines that the application makes a prima facie showing that the

Recommendation

Accordingly, it is recommended that the § 2254 petition be dismissed without prejudice and without requiring the respondent to file a return. See Allen v. Perini, 424 F.2d 134, 141 (6th Cir. 1970) (federal district courts have duty to screen habeas corpus petitions and eliminate burden placed on respondents caused by

(D) The court of appeals shall grant or deny the authorization to file a second or successive application not later than 30 days after the filing of the motion.

(E) The grant or denial of an authorization by a court of appeals to file a second or successive application shall not be appealable and shall not be the subject of a petition for rehearing or for a writ of certiorari.

(4) A district court shall dismiss any claim presented in a second or successive application that the court of appeals has authorized to be filed unless the applicant shows that the claim satisfies the requirements of this section.

Notice of Right to File Objections to Report and Recommendation

The petitioner is advised that he may file specific written objections to this Report and Recommendation with the District Judge. Objections must specifically identify the portions of the Report and Recommendation to which objections are made and the basis for such objections. "[I]n the absence of a timely filed objection, a district court need not conduct a de novo review, but instead must 'only satisfy itself that there is no clear error on the face of the record in order to accept the recommendation.'" Diamond v. Colonial Life & Acc. Ins. Co., 416 F.3d 310 (4th Cir. 2005) (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 72 advisory committee's note).

Specific written objections must be filed within fourteen (14) days of the date of service of this Report and Recommendation. 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b); see Fed. R. Civ.
